You are welcome to submit any news you may have regarding services and activities that are of interest to seniors in this region. Lake Region Human Service Center makes available all services and assistance without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, age, sex, or handicap, and is subject to Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1975 as amended. Lake Region Human Service Center is an equal opportunity employer.

MISSION STATEMENT

In a leadership role, Aging Services will actively advocate for individual life choices and develop quality services in response to the needs of vulnerable adults, persons with physical disabilities, and an aging society in North Dakota.

Vulnerable Adult Protective Services

January 2008

Background:

In 1989, the North Dakota Legislature passed the law authorizing the Department of Human Services to develop, administer, and implement a protective services program for vulnerable adults. The program works to prevent further abuse, neglect, or exploitation and promotes self-care and independence.

Each regional human service center has an Elder Services Unit that is responsible for vulnerable adult protective services, as well as other services.

State Law Defines a Vulnerable Adult as:

... any person older than age 18, or emancipated by marriage who has a substantial mental or functional impairment

ND Century Code 50-25.2-03 states that any person who reasonably believes that a vulnerable adult has been subjected to abuse or neglect or observes conditions or circumstances that reasonably would result in abuse or neglect, may report the information to the N.D. Department of Human Services or to an appropriate law enforcement agency.

The law gives the Department the right to assess and to provide or arrange the provision of adult protective services if the vulnerable adult consents to and accepts the services. The Department may pursue administrative, legal, or other remedies authorized by law, which are necessary and appropriate under the circumstances to protect a vulnerable adult who cannot give consent, and to prevent further abuse or neglect.

Did You Know?

Adult children, other relatives, church communities, and other informal support systems help meet the needs of many people. Individuals who receive vulnerable adult protective services often lack these informal supports.

Vulnerable Adult Services Statistics:

Oct. 2006 – Sept. 2007

444	New cases
392	Information and referral calls
223	Brief services (Required up to 2 hours of staff time to resolve. For example, helping a family locate needed services.)
404	Cases closed
7,008	Hours spent on information and referral, brief services, and cases

NOTES:

A clarification in reporting occurred. Case data should not be compared to data prior to the 2003-2004 federal fiscal year. Also, a new case does not mean a person has not been served before. Recidivism is common. Abilities change over time, and concerns about neglect or abuse may resurface.

Adult Protection in Practice:

- A vulnerable adult has the right to make decisions on his or her own behalf until he or she delegates responsibility voluntarily to another, or the court grants responsibility to another.
- When interests compete, a competent individual's decision supersedes community concerns about safety, landlord concerns about property, or family concerns about health or finances.
- A person can choose to live "in harm" or even self-destructively, if she or he is competent to choose, does not harm others, and commits no crimes.

How Calls Are Handled:

When a Regional Human Service Center receives a call about suspected abuse or neglect of a vulnerable adult, staff members:

- Assess the situation via phone to determine if an emergency exists.
- Work with law enforcement, if appropriate.
- If it is not an emergency, but requires more than providing information and referral, staff may conduct a site visit to assess the situation and assure appropriate services are offered.
- May offer services to the vulnerable person such as home-delivered meals, personal care assistance, respite care, or other services, if appropriate.

Older Americans Month 2008

Working Together for Strong, Healthy, and Supportive Communities

The United States is nearing the start of a tremendous demographic shift. Beginning in 2011, the first of 78 million baby boomers (people born between 1946 and 1964) will start transitioning into retirement, kicking off an expansion in the number of elderly people that will continue for decades. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, one out of every nine baby boomers will live to be at least age 90.

Our Nation will benefit in many ways from a larger population of older adults, a group that constitutes one of our greatest resources. Older adults support our society by providing millions of hours of volunteer, community, and civic service through formal organizations and a variety of informal arrangements. They enhance our communities and personal lives by sharing and transferring knowledge of cultures, values, and life experiences among generations. Thankfully, the contributions of older adults will continue to flourish in the coming years, since older citizens of today and tomorrow promise to be among the most active and engaged older adult populations in our Nation's history.

An expanding older adult population also spotlights our responsibility to ensure the well-being of our older citizens. As a Nation, we are working diligently to address older adults' unique health and long-term care challenges. The thousands of professionals, caregivers, and volunteers that make up the National Aging Services Network have been collaborating in innumerable ways for decades to fulfill the mission of the Older Americans Act. Led by the U.S. Administration on Aging, the Network is now engaged in modernizing systems of care to provide consumers with more control over their lives.

May is Older Americans Month, a great time to bring attention to the issues that affect older adults. This year's theme is "Working Together for Strong, Healthy, and Supportive Communities," which speaks to the opportunities we have to create better care and reinforce healthier societies for all ages. Working together, our communities can improve older adults' overall quality of life by helping them:

- Make behavioral changes in their lifestyles that can reduce risk of disease, disability, and injury.
- Obtain the tools they need to make informed decisions about, and gain better access to, existing health and long-term care options in their communities.
- Have more options to avoid placement in nursing homes and remain at home as long as possible

Americans of all ages and backgrounds can celebrate Older Americans Month. Contact your local Agency on Aging and volunteer for activities in your area, promote community, state and national efforts to serve older adults, and find ways to enrich the lives of the older adults who touch your life. By working together we can improve the health and well being of our Nation's older adults and pave the way for future generations.

FILE EARLY FOR RENTER'S REFUND

by Cory Fong, Tax Commissioner

BISMARCK, N.D. - Low-income senior citizens and disabled persons may be able to receive a refund for part of the money they paid as rent for their home or apartment in 2007, announced State Tax Commissioner Cory Fong. Mobile home residents may be eligible for a refund of part of the lot rent they paid. The deadline for filing for the refund is May 31.

"Even though the deadline is a few months away, we want to do what we can to make certain that everyone who is eligible knows about the deadline," said Fong.

The Tax Department offers the refund to renters who are 65 or older, or permanently and totally disabled at any age, and whose 2007 income was not over $17,500. And, if 20 percent of the total amount of rent paid is more than four percent of their 2007 income, they could be eligible for a refund. The maximum amount of refund is $240.

"The 2007 Legislature raised the income limit," said Fong, "making it available to more people and we want to get the word out about that change."

Under the old requirements, an applicant's income could not exceed $14,500. With the new $17,500 increased income limit, the Tax Department is anticipating an additional 1,700 new applicants will participate in the renter's refund program.

Fong added, "Anyone who thinks they might be eligible should contact the Tax Department and request an application."

Last year the Tax Department paid over 1,300 refunds for nearly $190,000. The average refund was about $145 per application.

Fong encourages people who think they might qualify to contact the Tax Department in Bismarck at 701.328.3127 or toll-free at 800.638.2901, option 5, for more information.

Additional details about the Renter's Refund program are available in a brochure, Homestead Tax Credit for Senior Citizens or Disabled Persons. The brochure is available in PDF format on the Tax Department's web site at: <http://www.nd.gov/tax/property/pubs/homesteadcredit-brochure.pdf>

ND Family Caregiver Support Program

Family Caregivers in the Workplace

Family caregivers often describe their caregiving as a full-time unpaid job. In addition to their caregiving work, many family caregivers are also employed in either part-time or full-time work outside the home. They have been described as “invisible” in the workplace, as they often are without support from their employer or co-workers. They shoulder the responsibilities of caregiving while also trying to be a responsible employee. As the number of family caregivers has escalated, family caregiving has gradually become recognized as a social issue with significant impact on both employers and employees.

Research into the issues of caregiving and employment has found that:

- An estimated 10 percent of caregivers quit their jobs. This results in costly increased turnover for the employer, and lost income and benefits for the employee.
- In today’s workforce, an estimated one in four workers cares for an aging parent.
- Twenty percent of caregivers leave their jobs at least temporarily to handle caregiving demands.
- Eighty percent of long-distance caregivers are employee full or part-time and need to do many of their long-distance caregiving tasks during their work day. These tasks can include phone calls to find resources, paperwork, talking with healthcare providers, and contacting other family members to coordinate care issues.
- Absenteeism among family caregiver employees is less of a problem for employers than “presenteeism” – employees who are on the job but distracted, working under the physical and emotional strain caused by their caregiving responsibilities. Studies have shown that “presenteeism” costs employers billions of dollars a year in lost productivity and safety claims.
- Some employers offer benefits such as flexible work schedules, funeral or bereavement leave, or health fairs that include information on aging services or services for people with chronic illness. Few employers offer classes, employee assistance counseling, or written information for their employees who are caregivers. Fewer still offer referral services for family caregivers about taking care of themselves.
- Employees generally underestimate the amount of time caregiving will take and the impact it will have on their work life. Caregivers report caregiving for periods from as short as a few weeks to months or years.
- Caregiving affects male and female employees in similar ways. Male caregivers often do not let co-workers know of their caregiving responsibilities and stress. When asked, both male and female family caregivers say they would use employee services addressing issues of caregiving if they were available.

- Retirement decisions are sometimes influenced by caregiving responsibilities. Wives caregiving for husbands often retire earlier than planned. Husband caregivers often work longer than planned because of financial concerns.
- Two of the major stressors for employed family caregivers are fear of unemployment and fear of loss of the health insurance benefits offered through the employer.
- Employees frequently use their weekends, sick days or vacation leave to attend to caregiving. This results in employees suffering from symptoms of exhaustion and burnout, since they have no chance to relax or find respite for themselves.
- Many employers express an interest in learning about caregiving support that could be made available to their employees.

Introducing New Family Caregiver Support Program (FCSP) Coordinator

Hello, my name is Tammie Johnson and I have been hired as the New Family Caregiver Support Program Coordinator. I have been a Licensed Social Worker for eight years at Medcenter One Health Systems. I am very pleased to be a part of West Central Human Service Center, and look forward to meeting many of you in the future. I have lived in the Bismarck area for twelve years with my husband and two boys. My oldest son is in college studying to be a nurse, and my youngest son is a senior in high school. I enjoy fishing, reading, gardening, entertaining and most of all, traveling. I am very excited to be in this position. Please call me if you have any questions at (701) 328-8776 or toll free at 1-888-328-2662.

How far you go in life depends on your being tender with the young, compassionate with the aged, sympathetic with the striving, and tolerant of the weak and the strong. Because someday in life you will have been all of these. George Washington Carver

30 Minutes a day

It only takes 30 minutes a day. Being physically active for 30 minutes will lower your chances of having a stroke or a heart problem, lower high blood pressure and even help prevent or manage diabetes.

Thirty minutes a day of “moderate intensity” activity is a great way to stay healthy and have more energy.

For some people, “moderate” is a slow walk. For others, “moderate” is a brisk walk. It all depends on you. Moderate means you can feel your heart beating faster and are breathing more rapidly, but you can still talk comfortably.

How can you fit in 30 minutes? You don’t have to do it all at one time. You can walk or do other activities for 10 minutes or so. Do this 3 times a day and you’re on your way. For example, in the morning walk to the store and in the evening take the dog on a longer walk. In between, do some yard work and gardening.

Moderate physical activity

- Walking briskly
- Scrubbing floors or washing windows
- Mowing lawn by pushing a power mower
- Swimming
- Bicycling on level terrain
- Weight lifting
- Dancing

For some people, “moderate” is a slow walk. For others, “moderate” is a brisk walk.

60 Minutes for weight control

Do you want to lose weight, or stop the weight gain that tends to creep up as we age? Then increase your activity to 60 minutes or more a day.

Tips to be active

- Park the car farther away from your destination.
- Get on or off the bus several blocks away.
- Take the stairs instead of the elevator or escalator.
- Play with children or pets.
- Stretch while watching TV.

Make the time for physical activity, and enjoy a fuller life.

Debit Card Option Coming for Payment of Social Security and SSI

The Department of the Treasury has announced that beginning this Spring, people receiving Social Security or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits who do not have a bank account will be offered the option of receiving benefits in the form of a prepaid debit card instead of a paper check. The program, which Treasury has labeled "Direct Express," is expected to be in operation nationwide by the end of this summer. While initial use will be restricted to Social Security and SSI benefits, it may be extended to other federal benefit programs in the future.

If you love someone, tell them. Don't be afraid to express yourself. Reach out and tell someone what they mean to you. Because when you decide that it is the right time, it might be too late. Seize the day. Never have regrets. And most importantly, stay close to your friends and family, for they have helped make you the person that you are today.

It could make a difference. The difference between doing all that you can or having regrets which may stay with you forever.

Assistive Safety Devices Distribution Service

IPAT was once again awarded a contract through the ND Department of Human Services, Aging Services division, to provide assistive safety devices and services. IPAT will fulfill this contract by operating the Assistive Safety Devices Distribution Services (ASDDS). This program has been established to help state residents who are at least 60 years old, not living in a nursing facility, and continue to remain safely in their homes.

Participation in this program is voluntary and is at no cost to the participant. Devices that can be provided to promote safety include, but are not limited to: smoke alarms, automated medication dispensers with an alarm and lock, electric jar openers, and uplift seat assists. For further information, contact Connie between the hours of 9:00 am – 5:00 pm CST by calling 1-866-673-6703 or 1-701-265-3165 or faxing 1-701-265-3150, or e-mailing crawls@ndipat.org.

Norma Jean Neumiller Retires

Norma Jean Neumiller, resident of Maddock, North Dakota and Director of Benson County Transportation for the past twenty years has announced her retirement effective June 1, 2008.

Norma Jean has been a long time advocate for older persons and has worked hard to ensure that older persons in Benson County receive transportation services that are so vital to older individuals living in the rural communities of North Dakota.

Thank you so much for twenty years of service to older individuals. Your dedication to older persons' programs has been exemplary. You will be missed.

This is not goodbye my dear friend, it is see you later!

Just For Fun Quotes From The 50's

- I'll tell you one thing, if things keep going the way they are, it's going to be impossible to buy a week's groceries for $20.
- Have you seen the new cars coming out next year? It won't be long when $5000 will only buy a used one.
- Did you hear the post office is thinking about charging a dime just to mail a letter?
- If they raise the minimum wage to $1, nobody will be able to hire outside help at the store.
- Do you suppose television will ever reach our part of the country?
- I never thought I'd see the day all our kitchen appliances would be electric. They are even making electric typewriters now.
- It won't be long before young couples are going to have to hire someone to watch their kids so they can both work.
- No one can afford to be sick anymore. $35 a day in the hospital is too rich for my blood.
- If a few people want to risk their necks flying across the country that's fine, but nothing will ever replace trains.
- Did you see where some baseball player just signed a contract for $75,000 a year just to play ball? It wouldn't surprise me if someday they'll be making more than the president.
- When I first started driving, who would have thought that gas would someday cost 50 cents a gallon. Guess we'd be better off leaving the car in the garage.
